Catch Its Positivity for Publishing Industry

Ani Nuraini Syahara - Indonesia
Asian Publishers Fellowship Program 2023 - KOPUS

Hello! My name is Ani Nuraini Syahara, editor from BIP, Indonesia.

Graduated from Indonesian Literature, I joined Bhuana Ilmu Populer Publishers in 2015 as an editor. From the beginning, I have handled educational comic and novel books, both domestic and foreign-translated books, in several genres such as romance, mystery, thriller, fantasy, slice of life, and many more, which targeted middle grade to young adult readers.

These are a few of my editing works:

My interest in social media led me to develop the Instagram account @bhuanasastra with the team, in addition to the main publisher's account, @bipgramedia.

One of the successful authors I manage is Valerie Patkar, who already released 6 best-selling novels and still counting. We are developing a fictional universe called "Dunia Loversation", which is a collection of Valerie Patkar's works. It's not only limited to book form but also can be expanded into other potential formats. "Dunia Loversation" provides a reader community through a WhatsApp group, serving as a platform to gather, share stories, and connect with each other.

Now, I am also assigned to the BIP learning and development team, particularly for editors. We will evaluate editors' skills and provide training to maintain and improve their skills.

Bhuana Ilmu Populer was established on September 22, 1992. BIP has grown into one of the major publishers in Indonesia under Kompas Gramedia Group. BIP mainly focuses on publishing children's books, such as educational comics, fairy tales, picture books, and activity books for toddlers and children. However, BIP also includes nonfiction books on topics like health, business, leadership, motivation, self-help, and educational support, as well as novels in several genres.

Every year, BIP publishes over 300 books, with 60% of them being toddler's and children's books. BIP has imprints for specific categories: Bhuana Sastra for novels, Genta for Christian books, and Qibla for Islamic books. In line with the digital era, BIP books are also available in the form of ebooks and audiobooks, which are available on Gramedia Digital and other third-party platforms.

To find out about the current book trends in Indonesia, I would recommend checking with local bookstores, libraries, or online book communities and forums that focus on Indonesian literature. You can also explore Indonesian book-related websites and social media groups or consult with book enthusiasts and experts in Indonesia who may have more up-to-date information on what's popular in the country's literary scene.

My Personal Experience Using AI as a Book Editor

Editorial Purpose

- Book review: I look for the details about a book, especially US and UK books. I faced some difficulties in searching for books from Korea. And also, i used to be aware of some false information they provide.
- Book recommendations to be published: Not too works because sometimes they recommended books that already published in Indonesia.
- Translation: Using the power of AI to translate and rephrase.
- Editing: It helps when we work on the foreign books, because the language is more formal and matches with the AI language. But for domestic books, especially in fiction for teenagers and young adults that use informal ways both in the dialogue and narration, AI could not be applied as an editing tool.

Marketing Purpose

- Content ideas: Provide ideas for social media content.
- Writing articles: Helps me to get another insight and gather related information while writing some articles.

From my experience as a book editor, using AI tools does provide efficiency. But I also take note that the work of AI is not ready-to-use instantly, but still need human touch and improvement.

Potential Use of AI

- Be a prompt-writer to “write” a story.
- Make a storyboard/illustration sketch as a guidelines for the designer.
- Cover or illustration made by AI.
- Create content for marketing purposes.
- Digital visualization for the author and/or the character of the story.
- Analyzing habits of user for a personalize recommendation.
- Virtual book assistant.

So, in this race between human and technology....

We need:

- more discussion,
- explore another utilization,
- evaluate,
- upgrade our own competencies to catch up, so we do not left behind!

And keep calm~

Last but not least, let me recommend our books!
